

A fact I'll bet you didn't know

Sometimes
I like to relieve myself
outside
in my backyard

because I realized
peeing in a toilet
is so ordinary,
so normal

I flip on the porch light so the roaches can scurry and then I take out my wang

the nights are cool
and I cross my arms
looking toward
the heavens

there are a few stars out the mixture of the breeze,

the view,
and the urinating

I am a content man

everything is as it
should be

she is gone
and I now know
the true meaning of
'gone for good'
because it is good

better than I could ever imagine
