

You Are Everywhere

you are in the
films I watch

music I listen to
and the
books I read

you are in the stores I shop and the restaurants I eat

you are
walking past
my window
when I look
through the curtain

you are on the street corner
as I drive past

you are in my room
when I am not home
and in my bed
when I am not asleep

you are in the jokes I tell
and the
sad stories
I confess

my couch
digging your feet
into my side

you are in
blue jeans
and white heels

you are in the flowers
when they bloom

you are in
my eyes
when I close
them

you are everywhere
