

'not with a bang but a whimper'

in my dark room
i whisper "i love you"
into the air
and it leaves my lips
like a dead leaf leaves a november branch
and it drifts off
flickering about
delicately falling
until disappearing
altogether
and it all ends
as simple
as that